OVERVIEW
This guide explains how to link your ORCID to your Scopus author profile using the Scopus2ORCID wizard. During this process you can also request changes to the way Scopus displays your name or affiliation. You can also report publications incorrectly linked to your profile, or that need to be added to your profile, as long as these publications are already indexed in Scopus.

NOTE
These instructions are for linking an existing ORCID to your Scopus author profile. If you do not have an please follow the instructions to create an ORCID from your Pure profile: https://libguides.mq.edu.au/id.php?content_id=42680008

STEPS
1. Go to the Scopus2ORCID website https://orcid.scopusfeedback.com/#/
2. Click Start.

Send Scopus Author details and publication list to ORCID
Your publications on Scopus may be spread over a number of different Author profiles, because these are generated automatically.

ORCID (Open Researcher and Contributor ID) seeks to remedy the systemic name ambiguity problems seen in scholarly research by assigning unique identifiers linkable to an individual’s research output. If you have not yet created an ORCID profile, you will be able to do so during the process that follows; alternatively, you can register first at https://orcid.org and then import your works from your profile page.

The Start button will take you to the ORCID site, where you can give permission for us to read your ORCID record (in order to find your profile(s) in Scopus), and send your ID to ORCID. If you choose to send a list of your publications to ORCID at the end of this process, we will repeat this to gain permission to update your ORCID record.
3. The ORCID login page will display.
   a. Ensure you are in the Personal tab
   b. Complete the sign in details and click Sign into ORCID.

4. A page will appear asking you to authorise Scopus to access your ORCID account. Click Authorize to grant Scopus this permission.
5. A page will appear listing Scopus author profiles that the wizard believes may belong to you. Use the tick buttons to select any profiles that are yours. Then click Next.

6. Select your preferred profile name from the options in the dropdown list. Click Next.

7. Review the list of publications that Scopus has linked to your Scopus author profile. If any of these are not yours select the red cross next to them. If there are publications not displayed that you know are in the Scopus database search for them using the Search for missing documents link. Click Next.
8. Review the data that you are about to send to Scopus. Click Next.

Review the Scopus profile

Please review the information below to ensure that the data to be sent to ORCID is correct.
