Statement on Social Inclusion and Diversity

Social inclusion at Macquarie University is about giving everyone the opportunity to study at university, participate in campus life and flourish in their chosen field.

Collectively we are striving to ensure that Macquarie University is an equitable, inclusive, diverse and exciting campus community for the benefit of staff and students.

As a member of the Macquarie University community, you must not discriminate against or harass others on the basis of their sex, race, marital status, carers responsibilities, disability status, sexuality, gender identity, age, political conviction or religious belief. All lecturers, tutors and students are expected to display appropriate behaviour that is conducive to a healthy learning environment for everyone.

If you require support please contact the Unit Convenor or a member of the Macquarie University Ally Network.
